Whatever is born at Delavan to-day will probably be baptised at Elkhorn to-morrow.

Madison is also aspiring to be an electric light city, and a company has been formed there with a capital of $20,000. The incorporators are O. H. Orton, attorney; C. E. Bross, telegraph operator, and A. H. Hollister, druggist.

Nothing could disappoint and discourage the Democrats of the Third Congressional district so much as an honorable compromise of the Keyes-Hazelton matter. It would mean certain defeat to them. Let the compromise be made.

Two weeks from to-day the Ohio election will take place, and the Republicans are increasing their working force. The list of speakers has been enlarged, and the work of organization is is being rapidly pushed forward to completion. The reports that come to the State Committee from all the counties are encouraging for the Republicans.

The Republicans of Philadelphia have done one thing which will greatly strengthen the Beaver ticket in that city. The local nominations there have been remarkably judicious. The nominees are all men whose character and reputation are said to be above criticism. It is thought that they will be indorsed by the Committee of One Hundred.

Judge Benjamin F. Bryant has been appointed postmaster at La Crosse, in place of Charles Seymour, who finally concluded to resign in order to accept the consulate at Canton, China. The La Crosse office is worth $2,500 a year, and the Canton consulate $3,500, and was lately held by William L. Scraggs, of Georgia, who was appointed minister to Columbia a few months ago.

The Chicago Journal says: "It is probably a matter of principle with them, but it certainly looks a little singular and inconsistent to see the Prohibitionists in the First Wisconsin Congressional district nominate a man against the Hon. Charles G. Williams, the Republican candidate, who has been a total abstainer all his life. He is certainly sound on the temperance goose in practice, whatever he is in theory." It has been several times stated that Mr. Williams was not only "sound on the temperance goose," as the Journal calls it, but that he favors the submission of the question to the people. There is certainly not a public man in the West whose position on this question is more practical than Mr. Williams'.

There was a sad case of drowning at Madison last Saturday, the unfortunate man being Mr. J. H. Chappell, who had been a mailing clerk in the postoffice in that city for a great many years. On Saturday he went fishing on Lake Mendota, and while out on the lake alone, the boat capsized, and he was drowned. His body was not recovered till Monday. The members of the Legislature while at Madison, who frequently wanted to get a letter in the mail the very last minute, will remember poor Chappell with a good deal of kindly feeling, and will hear with genuine sorrow his dreadful fate. Recently he had received an appointment as postal clerk on the Milwaukee and St. Paul. He was also to have been married in a short time.

The Stalwarts of New York, of which Mr. Conkling is the leader, adopted the following plank in their platform at the recent State Convention which nominated Secretary Folger for Governor:

Resolved, That we tender President Chester A. Arthur our assurance of confidence in his administration and our approval of the wise and patriotic course pursued by him under the embarrassing circumstances of his accession to office. His courage in resisting the enactment of the River and Harbor bill, which violated the accepted rules of constitutional power and which, while authorizing many needed public improvements, carried with it large and wasteful appropriations for works of neither national or public good, has secured for him the admiration even of his enemies.

Every Republican Convention in the United States should have adopted a like resolution, and the party would have been made stronger thereby.

A dispatch from Racine to the Milwaukee Republican-Sentinel, gives this coloring to the Congressional situation: "It is quite probable that ex-Judge E. O. Hand will be nominated on either the Independent or Democratic tickets, in the hope that by running half a dozen candidates Mr. Williams' majority can be cut down to a cipher. There will be five candidates in the First district for Congress, viz.: Charles G. Williams, Republican; John Winans, Democrat or Independent; E. O. Hand, Democrat or Independent; Mr. Blackman, Prohibition; Colonel Utley, Greenbacker." The opposition seems to be badly mixed up, and not at all harmonious as to the best way to cut down Mr. Williams' majority. When the thing is over they will learn that it is easy to figure out tremendous results for the opposition on paper, but to beat the Republicans is an entirely different thing.

THE NOMINATION OF MR. CONLEY

The Republican Convention of the Third Assembly district met in this city on Monday afternoon and renominated the Hon. John Conley, of Clinton, for the Assembly. This is a compliment to the nominee which he has fairly won. Last winter Mr. Conley took an important part in the business which came before the Assembly. He possesses those substantial qualities of head and heart which make him thoroughly efficient in whatever position he is placed. He has been well tried, and as often as tried, he was found true to himself and to others.

Mr. Conley having voted last winter for the proposition to amend the Constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, will not receive any opposition from the Prohibitionists. He is in full sympathy with that question and will therefore be warmly supported by the friends of the movement. His only opponent will be a Democrat, but the vote for the latter will be so small that it may be said that Mr. Conley will be returned to the Assembly by common consent. Last year he received the flattering vote of 1,172 against 355 for Dr. Borden, Democrat. The vote shows in what high esteem Mr. Conley is held by the voters of the Third Assembly district. He has rightfully earned this substantial recognition of public confidence.

WHAT WILL THE CONCLUSION BE?

The Gazette, with every other earnest Republican paper in the State, sincerely hopes that the trouble in the Third Congressional district will be brought to a speedy end, and that harmony will prevail, and a candidate called out that will make Republican success a certainty. The peace committee which consists of five well-known Republicans—Ed Sanderson, Milwaukee; Dr. Henry Palmer, of Janesville; George Jess, of Waupun; Thos. S. Allen, of Oshkosh, and James H. Mead, of Sheboygan; have not yet taken any steps in the matter, but will meet in a short time and see what can be done with the troublesome question.

So far, and no one regrets this more than the Gazette, Mr. Hazelton seems inclined so prefer a defeat of the party in his district, than to withdraw and allow a Republican put on the ticket who can be elected. He is an ambitious man, stubbornly and vainly so in this case, and it will be exceedingly difficult for him to win the sympathy and support of a majority of the Republicans in his district. When a man is ready to announce, and announces it after mature deliberation, that he will see the party brought down to defeat before he will in the least sacrifice his personal interest, then it is time to count him an unfaithful Republican. Every overture made for peace and justice, Mr. Hazelton has refused. He says he will remain in the field under any and all circumstances, and cares not what the result may be.

Mr. Hazelton's friends throughout the State, hoped better things of him than this. They hoped that when he saw that he was fairly defeated, and that he gained a majority of the delegates only through treachery and dishonesty, that he would refuse to accept a nomination. But his ambition to return to Congress out-witted his judgment, and he declares he will remain in the field.

A dispatch has been sent from Madison to the Evening Wisconsin, at Milwaukee, saying that the State Committee, which is somewhat anti-Keyes on general principles, will attempt to induce the Colonel to withdraw in favor of Hazelton, but Mr. P. L. Spooner, Jr., chairman of the Congressional Committee chosen by the anti-Hazelton Convention, says if Keyes shall withdraw in favor of Hazelton, his committee will call a convention and place another candidate in the field at once. He is advised to do this by some of the leading Republicans of Lancaster, Darlington, Shullsburg and other large places in Hazelton's old neighborhood and stronghold, and says he shall certainly follow the advice.

ABOUT A SMALL MATTER.

To the Editor.

JANESVILLE Sep. 25, 1882.

I am obliged to you for explaining in your issue of last evening an unpaid bill at Geneva two years ago. I invited several gentlemen to attend, and supposed I had paid the bills of all, but it seems yours was overlooked, or perhaps you paid it before I called for the bills, at all events I knew nothing of it until I saw it, as you say, issued as a "campaign document." I then called upon you to ascertain the amount, which you declined to give saying it was too small a matter to speak of. I intend, however, to make a tender of the probable amount just as soon as I receive my share of the "divide" in the River and Harbor bill, and possibly before.

Again thanking you, I am very truly yours, C. G. WILLIAMS.

A HORROR.

Premature Discharge of Cannon While Firing a Salute on Governor's Island.

Several Soldiers Stretched Dying or Dead on the Ground About the Guns.

The Unfortunate Men Horribly Mutilated---A Court of Inquiry to Investigate the Affair.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Castle William, on Governor's Island, fired a very disastrous salute yesterday. The French frigate Minerve ran into the harbor this morning. Her commander sent word to Gen. Hancock that she would salute at 8 o'clock. The fire began at the time named, and the guns were discharged at intervals of ten seconds. Orders had been given to fire a return salute, and three gun detachments of the 5th artillery were detailed for the duty. Gun No. 1 had been run back on its chassis after the first shot had been fired, and the men proceeded to swab and reload it. Privates Whelan and Clunis, company A, stood at the muzzle and used the swab and the ramrod. When the swabbing was done, a flannel cartridge-bag, containing eight pounds of coarse mortar powder, was shoved to the bore, and Whelan and Clunis proceeded to ram it home. They had not forced it more than half way into the gun when the discharge occurred. Whelan's right arm and the left arm of Clunis were torn away, and the thumbstall of the sponger, a thick, padded finger of buckskin which he had pressed over the vent, was burned to a crisp. The men employed in ramming the gun fell to the floor, the shock rendered them unconscious. Their clothing and flesh were blackened and burned and the floor was stained with blood from their wounds. Scarcely had their fellows of the detachment sprung to the assistance of the wounded men when gun No. 3 in the adjoining casemate was discharged in precisely the same way. At this gun Privates Malli and Lidner, of battery H, were ramming the cartridge. Private Malli died within ten minutes. Nearly the whole of his right arm was carried away. His jaw, his collar bone and the first bone of the sternum were fractured, and but of his ribs were torn from their cartilages. Private Whelan died at 1 P. M. His right lower-arm was blown off. When taken up he was bleeding at both ears. He was delirious until a short time before his death. Private Lidner is not expected to live. He lost his left hand and the bone of his left arm is badly fractured. Private Cunnis had his left fore arm and hand badly shattered, and his left left leg was burned. His arm was amputated. There are several theories as to the cause of the accidents. That the vents of the guns were well thumbed is asserted by the men, and it seems probable from the fact that the thumbstalls were burned to pieces. It is possible that burning shreds from the cartridge bagging may have been blown in upon the cartridges in the guns while they were reloading. The men agree that the charges exploded before they were rammed home. It is also thought that after the recent wet weather some burning particles may have remained attached in the damp bores. A court of inquiry will probably be ordered to investigate the cause of the accident.

A FATAL NOMINATION.

Is Secretary Frelinghuysen's Fate to be that of Messrs. Evarts and Blaine?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—It is a dark and ominous day for a secretary of state when he finds himself nominated by the newspapers to the English mission. In vain he protests, denies, and resigns the honor. His time has come, and soon he disappears from public affairs. Toward the end of the Hayes administration, Mr. Evarts was much annoyed and disturbed by this fatal nomination. He jested and frowned without avail. He even tried to seriously argue with the spectre, and knocking at its head some of his longest sentences, he thought he had slain it by ratiocination. It was not departmentally possible, he asserted, for a head to consent to be an inferior member. But logic and humor were alike futile. He vanished, and is no more. Mr. Blaine began to be offered the position immediately after Garfield was shot. He at once began to decline it, but it was tendered anew after each pyrotic call and with increasing frequency after Garfield's death. Blaine resisted shrilly, but in vain. The fatal offer undermined him, and he sank out of office in chill December. It is therefore a very serious fact for Mr. Frelinghuysen that the newspapers have now begun to nominate him also for minister to England. He seems to realize his danger, for he has already begun to decline it. An afternoon newspaper says this evening: "I can be stated on the very best authority that Secretary Frelinghuysen will not under any circumstances accept the British mission if it is tendered him. The mission having thus been offered him by the newspapers and duly declined he finds his official condition is regarded as critical.

The Major Generals.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Major General John M. Schofield has been assigned to the command of the military division of the Pacific and the department of California, from the 15th day of October, 1882, the date upon which the present commander, Major General Irvin McDowell, will, by operation of law, retire from active service. General Schofield has been ordered to San Francisco, and on the day named will relieve Major General McDowell. The vacancy in the number of major generals has stirred up a lively fight among the senior brigadiers, but the leading aspirant appears to be General John Pope. The other brigadier generals are E. O. Howard, Alfred H. Terry, Christopher C. Augur, George Crook and Nelson A. Miles.

A Faithful Dog Tells a Story.

PAINESVILLE, O., Sept. 26.—The dead body of William McGeary, a sixteen-year-old orphan boy, was found in the woods about five miles from here this afternoon. Last night he went coon hunting, and in felling a tree a portion of it struck him on the head, killing him instantly. To day the dog he had with him came to some workmen in a field, and then returned, and was followed to the scene of the accident. The body was brought to this place to-night.

Montgomery Blair.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—There is a probability that Montgomery Blair will re-enter political life as a Democratic congressional candidate in the Sixth Maryland district. The Democrats think that, owing to some disagreements among the leaders, because of the nomination of Mr. McComas by the Republicans, Mr. Blair could be elected by a full majority. Friends of Mr. Blair say he will make the race, if he is nominated with unanimity.

The Egyptian Situation.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The khedive and his ministers, accompanied by Sir Edward Malet, were yesterday morning escorted by the Bonsa lancers to the ra[illegible]station at Alexandria, to the music of the Egyptian national anthem. On arriving at Cairo they were received by the dukes of Connaught and Gen. Wolseley, and driven through crowded streets to Ghezireh palace. Abdellal Pasha, Sulaiman Bey and others have been sent to Cairo under military guard. It is learned that Arabi Pasha declined the services of French, German and Russian officers. Foreign correspondents credit him with the opinion that the people will wreak vengeance on the leaders of the rebellion unless they are cast out of the country by the conspirators.

With the consent of the British commander, Tolbawer Pasha has been commissioned by the khedive to reorganize the army of Egypt.

MISSOURI.

The Threatened Split in the Republican Party.

Mr. Filley Claims that His Committee Stands for the Party.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—A correspondent met Chauncey I. Filley, the Republican leader, today. Mr. Filley was asked if he thought the attitude of The Globe-Democrat and its declaration of this morning indicate that the Pullman city committee is to be ignored by the silk-stocking Republicans, and that we are to have a double city as well as a double state committee. "What do you think of it?" was queried.

"Think of it! I don't think of it. When this volunteer association of bolting Republicans met at Jefferson City and named a state committee, you would naturally suppose that its first duty would be to go to work and elect a state ticket, would you not? And what do these people do but to appoint a delegation to go to Washington and establish their regularity. They go on the defensive really before they are attacked."

"I wish you would state your position clearly on this matter."

"My position is this: Our state committee derives its authority from the national convention, held at Baltimore in 1881, which confirmed its regularity by a vote of 400 to 4. There is but one state committee, of which I am the chairman, and it will continue in existence, and I will continue at its head, until we have called the state convention to select delegates for the national convention of 1884, and until a new state committee is regularly appointed by that convention in 1884 to take our places. That is my position as clearly as I can put it, and that position will not be affected by any volunteer band of disaffected people whatever. This so-called state committee has come into existence for the purpose of electing a state ticket. Nobody wants to interfere with them, but they will find out if they interfere with our duties that the time for timing has gone by. What do those people represent? John B. Henderson starts up in the convention and tells them after fifteen years the party has come to him, that he has not come to the party; and it looks like it, too. The Globe-Democrat, the accredited organ of the bolt, says that the success of the Republican party in Missouri is a secondary matter. It always has been a secondary matter with them when that success came between them and their interests. They charge me with having dragged down the party. I suppose we dragged it down in 1875 when we elected four congressmen. In 1878 the policy of The Globe-Democrat and Mr. Henderson lost every district in the state, except the one I controlled, when they predicted 5,000 majority against Cole, and yet he was really elected and counted out. The methods which they criticise have been the methods of success, and they have been successful. The very dangers we feared from this convention are already upon us. It is admitted that now the state will go Democratic by fifty thousand."

SENATOR DAVIS TO WED.

The Acting Vice President Engaged to Miss Barr, a Southern Beauty.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 25.—Senator David Davis, of Illinois, will, within a few weeks, be married at Tokay, the elegant home of Col. Wharton J. Green, the Democratic candidate for congress from the Second district of this state, to Miss Annie Barr, a cousin of Col. Green. Tokay is three miles from Fayetteville, and is surrounded by the largest vineyard in the south. The exact date fixed for the marriage is said to be Nov. 5. Miss Barr is about 30 years of age, and is a charming and cultivated woman, and an heiress in her own right. She spent last winter at Washington, where the engagement was made.

The Scovilles.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—George Scoville has filed in the circuit court an answer to the bill of his wife for divorce. He states that since the assassination that she has been much of the time unsound in mind; that she has held confidential interviews with George E. Earlin, with whom she fell in love, in a locked room in a business block; and that she has corresponded with George Francis Train, Dr. Mary Walker, and Lewis Baschet, a lover of her early days, with whom she intends to take a trip to California.

Bold Bank Robbery.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—While a clerk was cutting coupons from a large pile of railroad bonds at a table in the office of the National bank of Baltimore, a stranger entered and asked the value of some government securities. The clerk laid aside his work to examine the bonds handed him when the stranger lifted from the table $12,000 in railway bonds and coolly walked out. An unsuccessful attempt to rob a bank messenger was made at the same hour in the First National bank of Baltimore by three confederates.

Base Ball.

The Boston club beat the Troy nine by 8 to 6. Buffalo defeated Detroit 7 to 4. Worcester and Providence played two games yesterday, the latter winning one game by 8 to 6, and the former the other by 4 to 3. The Troy club sends out a denial of its rumored resignation from the league. While playing at Green Bay, Thomas Lee, pitcher of the Milwaukee nine, broke his arm in delivering the ball. The Chicago club was victorious in a game with Cleveland, the score standing 2 to 1.

Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Extension.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The Louisville, New Albany & Chicago road is said to contemplate an immediate extension to Harrodsburg, Kentucky, bringing the Erlanger system into direct connection, making the Cincinnati Southern and its tributaries available for Chicago trade.

Increasing Trade.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—According to the exhibit of clearing-house exchanges, general trading throughout the country is assuming large proportions. The clearings of the past week, as compared with those of the same period last year, show an increase of 17.5 per cent.

Three Men Drowned.

BUFFALO, Sept. 26.—Four young men of Buffalo went out seven miles on Lake Erie, where the boat was upset by a squall, and James Wall, William Duggan, and James Conway were drowned.

A Diamond Robbery.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 25.—Three strangers entered the jewelry store of Cook & Sloss and managed to abstract diamonds worth $5,000 while pretending to find nothing suitable in the stock.

Mr. J. Marsh, Bank of Toronto, Ont., writes: "Biliousness and dyspepsia seem to have grown up with me; having been a sufferer for years, I have tried many remedies, but with no lasting result until I used your BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. They have been truly a blessing to me, and I cannot speak too high for them." Price $1.00.

A GREAT FIRE.

Destruction of an Immense Sugar Refinery at Philadelphia Yesterday Morning.

A Loss of $1,150,000 Incurred, with an Aggregate Insurance of About $480,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 26.—One thousand men are thrown out of employment by the burning of the Franklin sugar refinery.

It is not known that any one was killed. Louis Swanson, a Swede, and one of the foremen is, however, missing. He was last seen attempting to extinguish the flames as his fellow workmen made their escape from the building.

For a long time the refinery has been running day and night. Nothing is known as to the origin of the fire. It is remarked, however, that it was burning nearly an hour before the alarm was given. The workmen, who are trained in the use of the apparatus, endeavored to subdue the flames without the aid of the fire department.

While the conflagration was at its height the heat was so intense and the smoke so dense that the firemen were frequently compelled to desert the Delaware avenue front. A bark loaded with sugar and molasses lying in the dock directly opposite the building was in great danger, but the police tug Stokely was brought into requisition, and towed her out into the middle of the stream, where she was anchored. A lot of lumber stowed on Almond street wharf caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before any great damage was sustained. From the eleven-story building the flames communicated to the thirteen-story structure, and the thirty or forty streams thrown did no good. By 7 o'clock the whole interior of the high building was burned out, with the exception of the four lower floors. It then became evident that the high walls facing Swanson and Bainbridge streets would fall, and the crowds of people who had been attracted to the scene were driven back and the fire apparatus stationed near by removed to a safer position. Ten minutes later a portion of the Bainbridge front fell, cracking the front of E. C. Knight & Co.'s refinery building, but owing to the thick walls no damage outside of knocking off a portion of the cornice was done. The southern wall tumbled into the interior of the building, crashing through the first four floors of the structure. After the fire the scene was one of desolation. The immense destruction was evidenced by the mass of debris, rising three stories in height—copper vats smashed out of all form, bars of iron and steel twisted and curled in every conceivable shape, heavy boilers and metal pans broken up like so much pasteboard. Charred and still burning timbers, broken barrels, millions of bricks tangled telegraph wire, and a general mass of mixed material, all topped by the white steam rising like the smoke from an immense pyre, contributed to make the scene an impressive one. The buildings in the rear of Swanson street were saved, and the destroyed part will be rebuilt. The loss is put at $1,150,000, and the total insurance is $480,000. The list of companies involved can not be obtained to night, but they include all the principal offices in this country and in Europe. No other is involved over $150,000, and the sums generally range from $5,000 to $,000. The stock was worth $750,000. Molasses ran a foot deep over Delaware avenue during the fire.

Corn and the Frost.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 26.—Advices from various localities in the Illinois river valley and other portions of the great corn belt of this state, report heavy frosts during the later part of the past week, and serious damage to the corn in the lowland regions. That on high and dry ground is too far matured to be injured by the frost. It is estimated that the recent frosts have cut off at least 10 per cent of the corn which a week ago promised a good crop. It is claimed by some of the old Illinois corn-growers, however, that frost at this time, if not too severe, does more good than harm, by checking the growth of the stalk and hastening the ear to maturity.

Iowa Soldiers' Reunion.

TIPTON, Iowa, Sept. 26.—The soldiers and sailors of the war of the rebellion will hold a reunion here on Wednesday and Thursday. All comers will be provided for without expense to them. Gov. D. B. Sherman will deliver an address Wednesday afternoon, and Gov. Kirkwood and other leaders are expected. There will be a sham battle on Thursday.

Rumored Cabinet Changes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Regarding rumored cabinet changes, it may authoritatively be stated that Secretary Frelinghuysen has an understanding with the president that he is not only willing to retire, but anxious to give up all work, and seek the rest his years and services entitle him to. A high official here says there will be a new attorney general within six weeks.

Carter Harrison for Congress.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The Democratic congressional convention for the Third district of Illinois met yesterday and declared Carter H. Harrison the choice of the party, appointed a committee to learn if he will accept, and adjourned for ten days. Mr. Harrison informs the reporters that he shall decline the nomination, but states that on one condition he might consent to run.

Fatal Accident.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—A gallery in the exposition building gave way last evening, carrying several persons and a piano and two organs thirty feet to the floor, injuring seven persons, two of them fatally. Soon afterward two more were hurt just outside the building by the collapse of a temporary shed on which they stood to witness the fireworks.

RETRIBUTION.

Fearful Interruption of a Young Husband's Honeymoon.

Shot Down by the Father of a Little Girl Whom He Had Deliberately Ruined.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—Thomas Dodd, aged twenty-five, was assassinated at his home, on Seventh street, between Willard and Greer, in Covington.

The cause assigned for the assassination was that Dodd had ruined a young girl named Anna Welsh, daughter of Edward Welsh, who resides on the Lexington pike, in Covington. Dodd had been calling on Miss Welsh for the past year, and, she being scarcely seventeen years of age, he soon won her affections, and, it is alleged, succeeded in ruining her. At the time of her ruin Miss Welsh was living with a family named McGee on Scott street, in Covington. When she became enciente Dodd removed her to his mother's home, on Beech avenue, in Covington, where she remained for several weeks. Finally, Mrs. Dodd suspected that all was not right, and ordered the pair to move. Miss Welsh went home, and Dodd took board at Pat Tallon's, in Covington. Here he became acquainted with Miss Ella Hale, a rather prepossessing young lady, whom he subsequently married. Last Saturday night a week ago he obtained a marriage license in Covington to wed Miss Hale. The ceremony took place last Sunday afternoon at St. Patrick's church, in Covington. The bans were not published according to the ritual of the church, but Dodd's mother managed to hear that the ceremony was to take place. She, in company with her daughter, hastened to St. Patrick's church, where the ceremony was performed, and to try if possible, to prevent the consummation of the nuptials. But they arrived too late. Just as they reached the church door Mrs. Dodd beheld her son coming up the aisle from the altar of Hymen with his fair bride leaning on his arm. She immediately became frantic, and rushed at the twain with clenched fists, striking her son with both hands, and he was compelled to flee. He and his bride managed to escape, and getting in the carriage that was standing in front of the church door drove off. Mrs. Dodd picked up several rocks and stoned the carriage, and Oliver Mike O'Hara, of Covington, was finally compelled to take her in charge. She refused to be pacified, and said that her son should have married the girl he ruined. Last Wednesday Mrs. Dodd met her son coming from work, and, grabbing his dinner basket from his arm, struck him over the head with it several times, and he was compelled to jump in a pond to escape her.

Nothing more was heard of the affair until about 10 o'clock last night. Dodd was called to his gate by a lady who was accompanied by a large man with a mustache who had on an overcoat. It is alleged that the woman was Mrs. Welsh, mother of the ruined girl. She spoke two or three words to Dodd concerning her ruined daughter, when suddenly the man with her pulled a pistol and fired three shots. The first sent Dodd to the pavement. He was carried into his room in the rear of the house, and expired almost immediately and without saying a word. One of the balls entered the right temple and lodged in the head, another entered the breast in the region of the heart, and the other ball entered the right breast.

Immediately after the shooting the man rushed through the yard and made his exit through the alley, while the woman went up Seventh street.

The report of the murder spread like wildfire through the city, and in less than fifteen minutes over five hundred people had congregated at the scene. The police were soon on hand, and from the description obtained had no difficulty in recognizing the fact that Ned Welsh, father of the ruined girl, was the man who committed the deed. The police were soon scouring the city in every direction, and a close watch was kept at all the bridges and ferry boats. At a late hour he had not been apprehended.

Miss Welsh avers that Dodd is her seducer and the father of her unborn babe. She will be a mother in a few days. She is a very beautiful young girl of the brunette type, and previous to her downfall had numerous admirers.

When the news was broke to Mrs. Dodd that her husband of but six short days was murdered she went into hysterics and cried bitterly.

At an early hour this morning Mrs. Welsh was arrested at her home on the Lexington pike by Officers Sanford and Herbet, and placed in the jail, charged with being accessory to the crime. She admitted to the police that her husband did the killing, but refused to commit herself to a reporter. She said that she and her husband did not leave home together, but that they met on the street. They found young Dodd standing at the gate. She asked if that was Tommy Dodd. Mr. Reed pointed to the victim and said, "that is Tomay Dodd." She then asked him why he had ridiculed her daughter, and what he was going to do about it. He made no answer, and her husband drew his pistol and said: "Take that!"

COMING OPERA.

Some of the Wonderful Artistic Attractions Secured for the Season.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Some definite information in regard to Col. Mapleson's coming season of Italian opera at the Academy of Music has at length been received, and the promises made justify the expectation of a brilliant and successful season. Col. Mapleson writes that, in addition to the engagements of Patti and Albani, which have already been announced, he has secured the services of the dramatic soprano, M'lle Savio, who sings in "Lucrezia Borgia," "Norma," and like works, and he has nearly concluded an engagement with Mad. Zadgury, who is said to be a very fine artiste. He has also secured the great contralto, Scalchi; the Polish tenor, Mierzwinsky, and the baritone, Durat, who achieved success during the last season at Covent Garden. Col. Mapleson concludes his letter by saying that the season ought to be the grandest on record in this country, and he fully believes that it will be.

Mad. Patti will arrive in this country during the latter part of this week and will sing certainly twice a week during the season of thirty nights. The opening opera on the evening of Monday, October 10, will be Meyerbeer's "L'Africaine." Notwithstanding the increased prices of seats and boxes made necessary by the increased expense which the engagement of Patti and the troupe has laid upon Col. Mapleson, the subscriptions secured have been unusually large, and the financial success of the season is practically assured. A cable dispatch from London received in this city yesterday stated that Col. Mapleson was in that city, rapidly completing his preparations for sailing for New York.

Pennsylvania Politics.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 26.—State Senator Stewart, Independent Republican candidate for governor, declares that he was invited to the conference held in Cameron's house, in Washington, last winter, when the slate for the state convention was fixed up. The assertion that such a conference was held was strenuously denied by the Cameron men at the time; and although the slate was subsequently carried out, denials are yet being made. Senator Stewart says Cameron offered him a place on the ticket—that of the supreme judgeship. Stewart is a dangerous man to Cameron, and the senator would have been glad to have stowed him snugly away on the bench for twenty-one years. He challenges Cameron to produce the answer he received. It was a flat refusal. Tom Marshall, of Pittsburg, who declined the place of congressman-at-large on Cameron's ticket, and who is now stumping for Stewart, has been joined by ex-Attorney General Lear, who was chairman of the Cameron convention. The movement seems to be steadily growing, and it is now fully predicted by many intelligent observers that the Independents will poll more votes than the regulars. As the fight stands there seems to be no possible room to doubt the election of Pattison and the whole Democratic ticket, with a material increase of Democratic strength in the legislature and in the congressional delegation.

THE JERSEY FLOOD.

The Down-Pour Still Continues in Northeastern New Jersey.

Additional Damage to Property---Rail-Road and Canal Companies' Losses Enormous.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sept. 25.—Rain is falling heavily again to-day, causing additional damage to property. Five hundred thousand dollars will not repair the damage done in the counties of Union, Somerset and Middlesex, to say nothing of the losses of the railroad and canal companies, which are enormous.

RAHWAY, N. J., Sept. 25.—The flood was particularly severe in this city and in Union county. There were thirty bridges crossing the Rahway river and its branches within the city limits. Sixteen of these were destroyed. It will cost over $100,000 to rebuild and repair them.

At the Monroe street stone bridge, while the crowd were on it, one of the arches gave way, and John Wilson, a prominent citizen, was carried under the arch. His remains were taken out this morning.

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 26.—Rain is falling again, but the river is subsiding rapidly. The loss in this vicinity as yet is beyond calculation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The storm which began last Wednesday evening observed Sunday as a day of rest, and resumed business this morning with renewed vigor. This afternoon, however, the rain ceased, and clearing weather seems at hand.

DEATH IN THE MINE.

Four Men Buried Under a Coal Slide in a Maryland Pit.

Cave-In and Explosion in a Mine Near Wilkesbarre, Pa.---Railroad Track Settles Three Feet.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 26.—Yesterday a cave-in took place at the Dodson mine of the Plymouth Coal company. The squeeze caused an explosion of fire damp, instantly killing on fire boss and seriously burning four miners. The main track of the Lackawanna road settled three feet for several hundred yards caused by the cave-in, and all trains have stopped running.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Sept. 26.—A heavy fall of coal occurred yesterday in the Kingsmine of the Maryland Coal company, at Lonaconing. Four miners, including Mine Boss Byers, are known to be under the coal. The dead body of James Brehaney has been brought out. Louis Cook, another miner, has been brought up in a dying condition.

The Seaside in Autumn.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The Sun says: According to custom, the seaside resorts will now close up; yet upon the pleasant days of the month there is a peculiar freshness and life in the air which imparts vitality, produces keen appetite, and increases physical vigor. The temperature of the water until about the middle of October is usually higher than that of the air, and sea bathing is then a special luxury. It is wiser to spend this month by the sea than to spend August; but fashion drives the multitudes home, and the big hotels are being boarded up for the winter. Those who have experienced the delights of the aroma of the sea on a genial autumn day will agree that it is the most charming time of the year.

Mr. Gladstone and Our Civil War

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The charge that Mr. Gladstone sympathized with the south during the civil war in the United States having been reiterated, Mr. Gladstone, replying through his secretary to an inquiry on the subject, wrote that the statement attributing such sympathy to him is untrue, and contrary to authentic facts long ago made public.

Milwaukee's Finances.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 26.—The comptroller of Milwaukee informed the common council of a shortage of $480,000 in the funds, caused by overdrafts and mismanagement. He declared that he would not sign orders upon exhausted funds, and would ignore any act of the council not in strict conformity with law.

Reducing the Public Debt.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Bonds to the amount of $1,000,000, which were bequeathed by Mr. Lewis, of New Jersey, toward the extinguishment of the public debt, will this week be sent to Washington for cancellation and will figure in the next debt statement.

An Interesting Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—The Republicans of the Second district of Louisiana held a congressional convention yesterday. Six fights occurred, pistols were fired, the sergeant-at-arms was stabbed, and Judge Marks was nominated.

Trying to Escape Under Difficulties.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—Five convicts escaped from the Texas penitentiary at sunrise, yesterday, by crawling through the sewer. One was killed, two captured, and one wounded, and bloodhounds are after the other.

Return of Mr. Medill.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Joseph Medill, editor of The Tribune, returned yesterday from a three-months visit to Europe, several pounds heavier, and materially benefited in health. Mrs. Medill was compelled to remain in New York, owing to nervous prostration, occasioned by an extremely ugly voyage. Mr. Medill says the Arizona, the steamer in which he and his wife took homeward passage, struck a heavy headwind immediately after leaving the English channel, which kept the vessel in a sort of marching corkscrew roll from Queenstown to Sandy Hook, and that of the hundred and odd cabin passengers not a dozen were able to appear at table the last five days. Even two days after landing, Mr. Medill said his head and shoulders kept rolling in the direction of an old-fashioned worm fence.

THE HOFFMAN CASE.

Additional Charges of Lasciviousness Against the Bloomington Parson.

Objected To by the Defense and Sustained by the Chair.

LINCOLN, Ill., Sept. 26.—The investigating committee in the Hoffman lascivious case today was a lively one. Dr. Davies, counsel for the accused, led in prayer. When the body was ready for business the chair announced opposing counsel that they must adhere to the seal of witnesses only. A sort of feverishness is prevailing over the slowness of the proceedings, and to shorten the trial the attorneys were counseled to cease from all unnecessary speeches, which they complied pretty well with. The authenticity of the Pollibond letter was established, but the prosecution were prevented from trying to saddle it on Hoffman by questions to that effect. Mr. Pollibond related that scandalous rumors were in circulation in Decatur against Hoffman during his pastorate of Stapp's chapel in the years 1872 and 1873. He was accused of having taken improper liberties with a domestic, but said he was innocent and demanded that a church investigation be had. It transpired that the offered fee was not to tell his wife of the request to occupy a bed with her, because he feared it might result disastrously to Mrs. Hoffman's health, as she was then in a precarious condition. Zetta Robinson's deposition affirmed the Pollibond letter to be a base forgery, and Jacob Fleming, postmaster of Holder, Zetta's place of residence, deposed that no such letter passed through that office at the time specified. The Twin Grove scandal was strengthened by the evidence of several parties, but only circumstantial evidence was offered against Hoffman in his intercourse with Kate Taylor. When the prosecution sought to introduce the record in the Quincy case, certain Rushville depositions in support of lasciviousness, they were thwarted by the objections of the defendants, who were sustained by the chair. The defense proceeded to having ruled out specifications 2 and 3 under charge 2, alleging fornication with Mattie DeKoe in Quincy in 1878, and at Mrs Gray's house in Rushville during the same year; also specification 1 of the third charge, alleging adultery and fornication; 4 and 5 under the fourth charge, known as the improper advances toward Miss Irwin at Rushville in 1878, and with Kate Taylor in 1880. The documentary and depository evidence of the prosecution was completed before adjournment for supper, and at the time of reassembling oral testimony was engaging the attention of the trial as well as a worn out ecclesiastical court.

The evening session was devoid of interest, although rumor was expected of the prosecution, as they are about through with their evidence. Three hours were devoted to the tantalized records of Watt's hotel at the time the accusing witness and her mother claimed to have stopped there previous to Mrs. Robinson calling upon Rev. Hoffman, when he acknowledged the parentage of the child according to the Bloomington statement. Myers, the hotel clerk, and C. S. Allrich, an official member of the Bloomington church, were on the stand, but did not throw any additional light on the case except what has already been published.

A STRIKE AVERTED.

A Schedule of Wages Agreed upon Between the Engineers and Managers of the Gould System of Railroads.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 26.—The differences between the locomotive engineers on the Gould railroad and officials of that system have been amicably settled and the strike prevented. P. M. Anthony, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Engineers, and a special committee of the engineers' convention in session here had a long conference with General Manager Talmage, and the following schedule of wages was agreed upon: Three and a half cents per mile for passenger engineers and 4 cents per mile for freight engineers—100 miles or less to constitute a day's work, and all over 100 miles to be paid for at the same rate. Engineers running "pushers" to receive $90 per month; switch engineers, $80 per month. All detentions over two hours to be paid for at the rate of 35 cents per hour. These terms are somewhat under the original demands, but engineers seem to be very well satisfied.

It is further agreed that no engineer shall be discharged without a fair and impartial investigation, provided the engineer first submits his case in writing to the proper officers of his road; and if found innocent he is to receive half pay for the time lost during the investigation.

Following Follett.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The absconding of Alonzo Follett, the note-broker, forced the suspension of the Rubber Comb and Jewelry company, which had $150,000 in the hands of the defaulter. The company has been making $100,000 per annum over the interest on its capital.

The stove manufacturing house of Richardson, Boynton & Co. is also seriously embarrassed by Follett's disappearance, its notes for $47,500 having gone to protest. It is understood that speculations by the senior partner caused $300,000 of paper to be put on the market.

Rumored Cabinet Changes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Regarding rumored cabinet changes, it may authoritatively be stated that Secretary Frelinghuysen has an understanding with the president that he is not only willing to retire, but anxious to give up work and seek the rest his years and services entitle him to. A high official here says there will be a new attorney general in less than six weeks.

Engineer Melville.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Engineer Melville made his report to the navy department yesterday, and is placed on waiting orders, which will give him an opportunity for rest. This he really and urgently needs, for he is in a broken down condition, physically. He will to-day return to Philadelphia, where he says his family affairs demand his attention.

Oscar Wilde's Profits.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Mr. Carte, the London show manager, who sent Oscar Wilde to America, says that the profits of the trip have reached $50,000, to be divided equally between the two.

Arthur--Crowley.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Miss Maude Crowley, daughter of Richard Crowley, of this state, is engaged to be married to Chester A. Arthur, Jr.

Unworthy Influence.

Many persons are prejudiced against proprietary medicines. They do not know why. Many narrow-minded doctors condemn them without knowing or caring to know in the least about them—solely through principle and self-interest. These are mostly young and inexperienced in practice. "Prejudice is strong where the judgment is weak." Many physicians, with better and more liberal ideas and education, endorse those remedies which they find most efficacious for the diseases for which they are recommended. One of these, strongly endorsed, and coming into popular use, for the Liver and Dyspepsia, is ZOPESA. 8 oz. bottles 75c, 6 dr. 10c. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

HISTORICAL.

ALGEBRA is said to have been invented about 170, A. D.

THE punishment of the galleys originated under the Greek Empire.

A QUAKER affirmation was first accepted as a legal oath in England in 1696.

ONE hundred and ten whalers were sent out from the port of New Bedford in 1876.

COUNT PHILIP, of Nassau, was trepanned twenty-seven times as a cure for headache.

THE English law condemning suicides to burial by the highway, and mutilation by a stake, was abolished under George IV.

IN THE fourteenth century, to maintain a lion in the Tower of London cost six pence a day; while human prisoners were supported for one penny.

THE Christian custom of legacies for the relief of the indigent and suffering replaced the Pagan custom of bequeathing sums of money for games in honor of the dead.

FOR nearly two hundred years after its establishment in Europe, the Christian community exhibited a moral purity, which, if it has been equ ed, has never, for any long period, been surpassed.

IN 711 the Mohammedans, sailing from Africa, landed in Southern Spain, and, in the space of three years, conquered the country, with the exception of a few inaccessible regions in the Northwest.

THE Canadian House of Commons passed a resolution in 1881, to exempt beet sugar from excise duty for eight years. This was for the purpose of encouraging the manufacture of beet sugar in Canada.

IN THE long period between the irruption of the barbarians and the revival of learning in the fifteenth century, three persons are to be remembered for their efforts to keep learning alive—Albertus Magnus, the Abbess Hildegard, and the German student Rabanus.

RANSOM COOK, the inventor of an auger for boring at an angle of the wood without starting with a gouge, hit upon the idea of examining the lips of the worm, called the wood-borer, with a microscope, and from this model made the augor, which was very successful.

IN THE fourth century the praefect Symmachus, one of the most estimable Pagans of his age, collected some Saxon prisoners to fight in honor of his son. They strangled themselves in prison, and Symmachus lamented the misfortune that had befallen him from their "impious hands," but endeavored to calm his feelings by recalling the precepts of philosophy.

The Showman's Trade.

A showman, after assuring a reporter that nothing pleases the people more than something full of peril and bloodshed, gives the following incident of his career; but we don't vouch for his truthfulness—that is, not quite:

"I ran a whole season on a lion that had eaten a keeper. The people came in crowds, expecting every day to see him make a breakfast of his trainer. Was he actually dangerous? Dangerous! He eat another trainer, and then I lost him. His widder was actually in love with her husband, and she swore the animal should be killed, and the people sided with her; and as the beast was getting old, and tho killin' made a paying sensation, I did it. But I made all there was out of it. I insisted that the husband should have a gorgeous funeral. She said there was nothing to bury, as the lion had eaten her husband. 'But ain't the dear departed in the lion? If we bury the lion, don't we bury the dear departed?' 'Cert,' she said. And we had it, and it was gorgeous. We had a procession with all our wagons in it, the regular street parade, only all our riders had black scarfs on 'em, and the wagons and horses and elephants and sich were draped in black, and the band played a dead march. The widder was in open carriage in full mourning, with a white handkerchief with a black border to her eyes, lookin' on his minatoor. Ther wasn't no minatoor, but she held a case just the same. That night the canvas couldent hold the people. We run that two weeks to splendid biz. When the woman got over her grief, she went into the lion trainin' herself, ez 'Senorita Aguardente, the Lion Queen.' I gave her some old lions to practice on, and in less than a month she could do jest as well as the old man. She was a good woman, too. She rid in the grand entree, and rid in 'The Halt in the Desert,' did the bar'l act, did a good pad act, and is now practisin' bareback. She juggles tollable, and does a society song and dance in a side-show. When I get talent, I pay and keep it. My treasurer changes the names of my people every season, so as to have fresh attractions. O, I know my biz."

THE NARROW PREJUDICE—Which a few people hold against a patent medicine only because its formula isn't written in latin, which they can't read, is narrow-minded, and not in keeping with the progress of the age. ZOPESA will cure every case of Dyspepsia and Biliousness if the directions are followed. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

PERSONAL AND IMPESONAL.

—There is a man named Hass living near Smithfield, Tenn., who is the father of twenty-one children, twenty of whom are girls. The mother of the children is a stout, robust woman.—Chicago Times.

—Nathaniel Baker, of Lawrence, Mass., is a man who has fought and bled for his country and doesn't want a pension. For conscience sake, he asks that his name be stricken from the pension list.

—Rev. Mr. Sharrard, a young preacher who went from Louisville, Ky., recently, to Colorado, has struck it rich in the Gunnison district in a mine worth $250,000. He still proclaims the greater riches of the gospel.—N. Y. Sun.

—A momentous question has just been decided in New York. Louise Montague, the $10,000 beauty, acknowledges that her rightful name is Laura Keyser. Without this fact the history of the country is incomplete.—Chicago Herald.

—An infant son of Mr. Ruel D. Hall, of New York, was recently named Blaine Chandler, and in recognition of the fact he has received a massive silver cup bearing the inscription: "Presented to Blaine Chandler Hall by James G. Blaine and William E. Chandler."—Boston Post.

—Few men possessed more genuine wit than did the late Arthur Gilman. He was educated at Dummer Academy, and whilst there boarded with Deacon Hale. At a gathering of the alumni of the institution some years since Mr. Gilman being called upon, gave the following toast: "To the memory of Deacon Daniel Hale. For forty years he was bored by boys, yet for forty years he took boys to board."—St. Louis Globe.

—The late Mrs. Frederick Douglass is said to have first met Mr. Douglass at a church in their native state, of the Baptist denomination, for which he had organized a choir of which he was leader. He soon became betrothed to her, but he vowed that he would never marry her a slave. Seizing his first opportunity he made his escape from bondage in 1838. Arriving in New York he notified her of his successful flight to liberty, and bade her join him as had been agreed. She came forthwith and they were immediately married.—Chicago Journal.

—The secret of Mrs. Langtry's beauty is out, for the lady recently told an American interviewer that she was the only girl in a family of seven children, and shared the out-of-door sports of six stout brothers. Most American ladies whose beauty has survived their thirtieth birthday can tell similar stories, and so can a few red-cheeked, bright-eyed women who, though past threescore, are daily getting more enjoyment and solid comfort out of life, at home and abroad, than their over-indulged daughters can ever hope to do.—Boston Transcript.

—Mrs. Garfield has received the silk dress presented to her by the Women's Silk Culture Association of Philadelphia, and has written to Mrs. John Lucas a letter in which she says: "The case of silk sent to me by the United States Women's Silk Culture Association is received. It is very beautiful, and, as a specimen of our home silk product, is of exceeding interest. For this I prize it; but more especially is it of value to me that it was bestowed as an expression of the love and reverent regard felt for General Garfield. By him this industry was regarded with interest from the time it was established, and this, one of its first fruits, shall be preserved both as an heir-loom and as a memorial."—N. Y. Post.

"A LITTLE NONSENSE."

—The man that is born to be hanged will never be drowned, but it is best not to venture too far beyond your depth, young man, for all that.—N. Y. Graphic.

—There are eleven trust companies in New York City, and yet a man who wanted to get trusted for a ride on the street cars the other day was chucked off and had an arm broken.

—Three Chicago children have been arrested and fined for stealing twenty-five pillows. Those twenty-five pillows were from a summer hotel, and were found concealed in one of the boys' vest-pockets.—Boston Transcript.

"How far is it to Manayunk?" asked a weary Irishman, who was going there afoot. "Seven miles," was the reply. "Whom do you wish to see there?" "Faith it's myself I'd loik to see there," was the retort.—Philadelphia Quiz.

—"What's your name?" asked one little four-year-old miss of another. "I do declare!" replied the second little girl, "you are as inquisitive as grown peoples. They always asks me my name, where I got my new boots, and all such fings, until I'm almost as'amed of 'em."

—A young Englishman visited West Point recently, and, in company with a well-known officer there, admired the glorious sunset. "Isn't it magnificent?" exclaimed the West Pointer. "Yaas, it's very nice, you know," responded Johnnie Bull, "but don't you think it's rawther tawdry, you know."—New York Commercial.

—First Sovereign: "Whom do you vote for this time for sheriff?" Second Sovereign—"I never vote for sheriff." F. S.—"What, never?" S. S.—"No, never. You see, he might be called on to hang me some day, and then I would be placed in an exceedingly ridiculous light, for I would have voted for my own executioner."—N. Y. Mail.

—A minister was traveling along a country road in Scotland one day in winter, riding rather a long, lean horse, and he himself dressed in rather an odd-looking cap and large camlet cloak, when a gentleman came along, riding a fine horse, which "scared" at the preacher and his horse. "Well, sir," said the gentleman, "ye wud scare the vera deil, sir." "That's my business, sir," said the preacher.

—Translated from the Omnibus: Guest to the landlord—"Mr. Landlord, the box with toothpicks stands again not upon the table." Landlord—"Toothpicks there are with me not more." Guest—"Why then not?" Landlord—"Know you, in former times, then were the guests so cultured and stuck the toothpicks, after the use, again in the box. But nowadays takes every man one with. So much the business can't afford."

—George Bennett bought a dying horse for $5, and drove into Maysville, Va., at a slashing pace. After telling several that he had paid $200 for the beast, which did not show its condition to casual observers, he managed to get it killed by a locomotive. Then he sued the company for $200. His scheme failed and its projector is in jail—Courier-Journal.

—William Fahey and George Soper live in Ulcreed, Cal., William bet George twenty-five dollars that the latter could not swallow two dozen raw eggs in twenty minutes. When George had apportioned the money in his mind, among his various creditors, William brought in two dozen overgrown goose eggs. George and William meet as strangers now.—Chicago News.

Brieflets.

—Grain is coming into market slowly.

—The customary salutation is now "How's your cold?"

—The time for that investigating committee to begin their work, is immediately.

—The thermometer at 7 a. m. to-day registered 46 degrees above zero, and at 1 p. m. 64 degrees above.

—Pools will be sold here next week on the Chicago races, the league ball games and the local races at the fair.

—Miss Eliza Ingal, died yesterday afternoon at her home in the town of Janesville, from brain difficulty.

—Watermelons are being sold for 2 cents apiece in North Carolina, yet there does not seem to be any kind of epidemic there.

—The bill poster is at work decorating fences and walls with the paper of the Horace Herbert combination, who open here for one week at the Myers Opera house, next week.

—The ladies should not forget the premiums offered by C. E. Andrews & Co., for the best cakes made of Andrew's Pearl Baking Powder, to be exhibited at the Rock County fair next week.

—The team belonging to Mr. Tom Murray, broke from a hitching post at the depot this morning and took a scamper down the street. They were arrested in their ungoverned career, before any damage was done.

—The city council is in a dilema, as to how stringent the proposed fire limit ordinance should be. The difficulty seems to be on the question whether a brick or stone veneered building is as fire proof as a structure of solid masonry.

—The Judiciary committee instructed by the City Council last night to investigate the death of Louis Stark, is composed of Dr. Robinson, and Messrs. Murdock and Potter. Dr. Whiting the health officer will act in conjunction with the committee.

—J. M. Bostwick & Sons' have just received 50 pieces of new carpets, consisting of Moquette body Brussells and Ingrain carpets, of the latest styles. The Moquettes are entirely new in this market, and especial attention is called to their inspection.

—Prof. Harry Arnold, has received a very flattering offer from Abbie Carrington, to accompany her on a concert tour through the country, but he declined preferring to remain for the present in Janesville, and devote his time to teaching.

—It has not yet been positively determined whether the proposed competitive drill between the Rockford and Janesville Broom Brigades, will take place. We hope the ladies in our brigade will drill, as we feel confident they will achieve victory.

—A course of three lectures on Ancient Egypt, will begin at Cannon's hall, on Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings, of this week, by Professor William H. Hoisington, for the benefit of the Free Library Fund. The admission will be 25 cents to each lecture, or 60 cents for the course.

—Messrs. T. T. Croft, Charles Atwood, Charles Potter and Clark E. Ranous, are preparing to establish a roller skating rink, in Young America hall. The rooms will be lighted with the electric light and all the conveniences for enjoying this healthful sport will be furnished. They have not yet decided when the rink will be opened.

—A delightful evening was spent yesterday by a number of ladies and gentlemen at the residence of Dr. J. B. Whiting. The occasion was a soiree sociale, given by Miss Frane Whiting, who entertained her guests most elegantly. Mirth, music and dancing were the happy mediums, which served for the pleasant passage of the hours.

—The ladies and gentlemen of the Orpheus club, who are tendering the testimonial benefit to Prof. C. G. Titcomb, which will be given at the Opera house next Friday night, are working like beavers, and are disposing of tickets very rapidly. The price of the tickets is only 25 cents, and we would like to see every seat in the Opera house taken. The programme is a fine one, and will have an artistic interpretation.

—Between thirty and forty Democrats and dis-affected Republicans went to Delavan, this morning, to attend the Independent mass convention which assembles there this afternoon, to nominate an independent candidate for Congress from this district. Though one or two other names may be presented to the convention, there is little doubt that the Hon. John Winans will be the nominee. Some of the delegates left on the 7 a. m. train, while a number of others took passage for Delavan in carryalls which left about 9 o'clock.

—The fall running meeting, will commence at the Chicago Driving Park next Tuesday and continue for five days. The entries include the best flyers in the country, and a most successful meeting is anticipated. The purses offered by the Chicago Driving Park are always large enough to prove desirable inducements to the owners of the fastest horses, and nowhere in the country is the turf more liberally patronized. From three to five races will be run each day, so that the public will be amply repaid for any inconvenience they may experience in attending.

—The race for the base ball championship is becoming exciting. Providence and Chicago are still tied, Providence winning one game from Worcester yesterday and losing one, two games being played on the same day.; and Chicago winning their last game from Cleveland keeps the two clubs neck and neck. The chances of Chicago for winning the pennant are exceedingly good, as she has four more games to play, and Providence only two. Providence plays with Boston, and Chicago with Buffalo. This week will decide the question.

—At 11:40 o'clock this forenoon, a collision occurred on West Milwaukee street opposite Holdrege's grocery store, between two buggies driven by Dr. D. Robinson and Dr. Humphrey. Dr. Robinson's horse became unmanageable and though he did everything to escape contact with Dr. Humphrey's buggy which was coming in an opposite direction, the accident was inevitable. One of the shafts of Dr. Humphrey's buggy was broken, and his horse became badly frightened, and attempted to run away, but was caught by Mr. Charles Atwood and one or two other gentlemen before he could break loose from the driver. Dr. Humphrey was accompanied by a lady and it was very fortunate that the gentlemen interposed when they did.

—Mr. J. Corning, of Janesville, Wis., has been spending a few days in our city, a guest of Mr. Frank Filer. He handled the ribbons over Merodauh, Mr. Filer's celebrated stallion, in the 3:15 class Monday, and we never saw the horse trot easier. Mr. Corning is a first-class handler of a stepper, and took the race in three straight heats. Time, 2:35, 2:40½, 2:40¼, and could have done better. In the 2:45 class Wednesday, finished Thursday morning, he drove Mr. Filer's roan gelding Maple, seven heats, taking the third in 2:36¼ and 2:38. In the sixth heat he drove Maple over a slow half-mile track and made the fastest time ever exhibited on the Lullington track, trotting the last half mile in 1:14, and finished in a jog. Mr. Corning handles a stepper well, and deserves especial mention.—Ludington (Mich.) Democrat.

The Fair Next Week.

Next Tuesday will witness the formal opening of the Rock county fair. The Hon. Geo. B. Loring, commissioner of agriculture and the Hon. C. G. Williams M. C., will deliver addresses. A band of music will serve to enliven the large crowd who are expected to be present, and all the surroundings will be of the most pleasant character, and conducive to the amusement and benefit of all who may attend.

The display of machinery and agricultural implements will be the best ever seen at any fair, and will be inferior only to the mammoth expositions of metropolitan cities. Nothing has been overlooked, which seemed to promise entertainment or attraction, and those whose minds desire different food than is obtained in the study of recent inventions, and the improvements of mechanical genius will be provided with more congenial sources of pleasure. There will be the races, with the finest roadsters in this section as starters, the great riding race for ladies, the bicycle contest, the baby show and other attractions ad infinitum.

Strangers from a distance will be in attendance, as the fair has been more extensively advertised than any other county fair in the country. Any citizen of old Rock county who fails to attend and witness his home in all her glory of prosperity, would be recreant to a bounden duty.

Music and Elocution.

Lappin's Music Hall was crowded last night with a brilliant and cultured audience, to honor the musical and literary entertainment given by Mrs. J. B. Day. The audience was by no means chary of its praise and every number on the programme was received with plaudits, in every instance deserved. There was an agreeable mingling of the features of the programme each giving zest to the appreciation of the other, and though the bill was quite lengthy, interest never flagged, but seemed on the contrary, to increase. In her readings Mrs. Day displayed far more than ordinary elocutionary power, a fine perception of the author's sense, and a correct emphasis, enunciated with a clearness and precision enviable to the most accomplished forensic orator. She has evidently subjected a naturally pliable voice to a most rigid training, and now has it under admirable control. Every utterance is given with a distinctness, made agreeable by the fullness of the organ, tempered with a rich mellowness seldom found in feminine vocal expression. Her delivery of "The Foxes' Tails,' a Scotch sermon, indicated a rare imitative power, of which any dialectician might feel proud. The dialect was sustained in an easy, ready manner, throughout the entire length of the piece, and caused the audience to render unstinted applause.

Miss Christine Peterson acquitted herself very well of a few musical selections, and was accorded most generous praise.

A guitar and harmonica duet by Messrs. Wills and Hoebel, an alto horn solo by Mr. C. M. Post, and a few numbers by the Milton sextette, served to increase the delight with which the evening's entertainment was received.

Smith & Sloeum's orchestra furnished the instrumental music, which was equally good.

May—Hershfield.

Every one in Janesville remembers genial Joe May who was with Mr. Fred Sonneborn for a long time, and will feel glad of his present happiness. The Steubensville,(O.) Gazette has this to say of a recent event in which Mr. May was prominent character:

"Yesterday morning at the home of Mr. Wm. May, occurred an event of more than ordinary interest both to those who participated and to the select number who were so fortunate as to be witness. Then it it was that our genial friend, Joseph May, took unto himself a wife Mrs. Linn Hershfield being the happy bride and center of interest on the occasion. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Julius Eisberg, of Bellaire, who fortunately happened along just when he was needed, thus doing away with the necessity of a previously planned wedding trip to Pennsylvania. Like sensible people the newly wedded pair, after the festivities were over, settled down in their own house where everything was ready for occupancy, and they are as happy as two kittens at play with no one to molest or make them afraid. The Gazette, along with their many friends, extends hearty congratulations and wishes them the celebrations of many anniversaries of the happy day,"

MUNICIPAL MELANGE.

The Council orders an Investigation into the Death of Louis Stark and Agree to a Compromise with Bondholders.

The City Council met in regular session last night, Mayor Otott in the chair and all the Aldermen present except Valentine and Daly.

The resignation of H. Burt, of Washington Engine Company was accepted and Chas. Honal elected to fill the vacancy.

Specifications for the grading of North Harmony street were read and placed on file.

The usual number of sidewalk orders were read and referred, as were also bills for repairs in the different wards.

The committee on bridges reported that the grade of Harmony street was in accordance with the grade established by the Council. The report was received and placed on file.

Ald. Robinson reported for the special committee appointed to examine into the petition of W. V. Stewart complaining of illegal assement, unfavorably on the petition.

Ald. Nowlan reported that the Treasurer's report was correct, and on motion the report was placed on file.

The committee on finance reported through Ald. Nowlan a series of bills recommending their payment. On motion the report was adopted and the clerk ordered to draw on the city treasury for the payment of the same.

After the transaction of some unimportant routine business, the Hon. John Winans, made a statement in reference to certain bonds of the city. He stated that there were two actions against the city, on bonds issued in 1853. The first action was brought in 1863, and in case the city lost, the amount involved would be about $13,000. The other action, the speaker considered as likely to result favorably to the city. The first action however, he considered a bad one for the city. The holders of the bonds were willing to compromise on the payment of $5000, and he as also City attorney Hyzer would advise that the proposition of the plaintiffs be accepted. Mr. Hyzer and himself had consulted with several old citizens who were familiar with these bonds and all had agreed that the city should compromise. Mr. Winans thought that the matter of payment could be easily arranged, by the issuance of bonds payable in a year, as it was now too late to insert the item in the tax levy. In answer to a question, Mr. Winans stated that if these bonds were taken up, the matter would be ended forever.

The following order was passed on motion of Ald. Fitzgibbon:

WHEREAS, Two actions are now pending in the Federal courts against the city of Janesville, upon five bonds of $1000 each, given in 1853, as is claimed, and drawing 8 per cent. interest, and

WHEREAS, H. K. Whiton, the attorney of the plaintiffs in said actions, has offered to compromise said actions and surrender said bonds and coupons on the payment by the city of $5,000. Therefore,

Ordered, That said city accept said offer of compromise, and that the city attorney be and is hereby authorized to compromise the same at a sum not exceeding $5,000; and that after compromising with said Whiton, he report to the council in regard to the time and mode of payment.

Ald. Fitzgibbon stated to the council that the opinion was prevalent that the death of Louis Stark, who died in jail last Monday night, the particulars of which were published in the Gazette, was caused by the wetting he received at the engine house of Water Witch Engine Co., and in view of the circumstances, Ald. Fitzgibbon moved that the judiciary committee be instructed to investigate the matter, with the assistance of the health officer.

Ald. Potter seconded the motion and it was carried unanimously.

On motion of Ald. Nowlan, the city engineer was instructed to survey Dixon street from its intersection of Sharon.

On motion of Ald. Lennartz, the bill of John Allen of $21.50, which has excited a discussion at each meeting of the council for the past eight or ten weeks, was reinstituted, and after the usual debate the bill was again defeated, by a vote of 5 to 3, Alds. Fifield, Potter and Murdock voting in the negative.

The new fire ordinance establishing the fire limits, and describing the nature of buildings hereafter to be erected within the limits, was read and under a suspension of the rules was placed upon its passage. The ordinance as read does not permit of the construction of veneered buildings. The vote resulted in a tie as follows:

Ayes—Robinson, Murdock, Lennartz, Fitzgibbon.

Noes—Cox, Fifield, Nowlan, Potter.

The Mayor cast the deciding vote in the negative, and the ordinance was declared lost.

The work of grading Terrace street was given to John Brown, at 21 cents per yard.

For supplying coal the bidders were: J. W. Carpenter, W. H. H. Macloon, John Plowright, Hogoboom & Atwood, and Clark & Heald.

The contract was awarded to J. W. Carpenter as the lowest bidder, at 10 tons chestnut coal at $7.85, 40 tons range, at $7.35, and 10 tons briarhill, at $7.

The Council then adjourned to Thursday night next.
